

Gregory Turner

April 18, 2009

Gregory Larkin Turner, born 01.12.23, in Sioux Falls, SD, passed away at home Saturday, 04.18.09 in Chandler, AZ.

He graduated from South Dakota School of Mines, and then received his MS in Geology from U of Chicago where he met his wife, Eleanor (Ellie) Ellis.

Greg was a Geologist, residing in Texas from 1947 until 2006, specializing in the Texas production area and retired from both Unocal and Mobil Oil. He enjoyed travel, especially if it involved geological wonders such as mountains, volcanoes, rivers and canyons, and shared his wife's passion for antiques and oriental art.

He was preceded in death by his wife Ellie Turner, and his parents Arthur and Mabelle Turner. He is survived by his daughters Ellen Harrington, Chandler AZ, Paula Moore, Chandler AZ, Betsy McMahon, Irving TX; and five grandchildren. Memorial contributions may be made to the Americare Hospice Foundation (www.americarehospice.com), members of which tirelessly assisted him and his family in his latter days.
